MEDICAL SOCIETY IN SESSION HERE

Five Hundred Virginia Physicians to Attend Convention Which Opens To-Night.

Physicians from every county in Virginia will arrive in the city to attend the annual convention of the Virginia Medical Society, which opens a four-day meeting at the Jefferson Hotel to-night. Between four and five hundred doctors, according to the estimate of the local entertainment committee, will attend. The session to-night will open with an address of welcome by Judge John H. Ingram, and a response for the visiting profession by Dr. Raleigh W. Martin, of Lynchburg. These will be followed by an address by Dr. O. C. Wright, president of the society.

The program for the meeting this year shows a full schedule of three sessions each day. The morning and afternoon meetings will be given to the reading of papers and hearing of addresses, while the evening will be taken up with entertainments tendered to the delegates by the Richmond profession. First of these will be a reception in their honor given by Dr. Stuart McGuire on Wednesday evening. On Thursday evening the delegates will be entertained by the local medical fraternity, with a reception at the Commonwealth Club.

Health Conference. The Wednesday night meeting will be given over to a conference between the State and county boards of health on topics of public importance. It will be in the nature of a round table discussion of the problems peculiar to the departments of public health and their solution. Delegates to the convention will take part in the discussion.

A number of physicians from outside the State have been invited to deliver addresses, and have accepted. Among these are: Dr. Thomas B. Holmway, of Philadelphia; Dr. J. C. Bloodgood, of Baltimore; Dr. Fenton P. Parke, of Chicago; and Dr. Percy E. Brown, of New York, president of the American Roentgen Ray Society, which met recently in this city.

WOULD MERGE THEM

Project to Place All Internal Revenue Employees in One Association. For the purpose of interesting local employees of the Internal Revenue Department in a movement to merge all organizations of which they are members into a single association, the Internal Revenue Association, which was organized in Richmond Sunday and addressed a meeting of the Federal building, Monday night. The project was displayed by the department collectors, storekeepers, gaugers and others who were present. There are now several associations to which the various employees belong, and the idea is to consolidate them into a single institution in order that there may be more concerted action in the objects for which they are organized. While in Richmond Mr. Sheffer was the guest of the revenue officials. He left late Sunday night for North Carolina, where he will organize the local association. It is expected that he will return to establish a local of the national association in this city.

Progress in Westmoreland. Prof. J. H. Binford, secretary of the Co-Operative Education Association, has just returned from a tour of inspection in Westmoreland county, where he made addresses on educational subjects before teachers and attended the annual meeting of the Teachers' Association. He found that Westmoreland is making substantial progress in providing better schools and equipment. New four-room buildings have been completed at Montross and Oak Grove, while a bond issue to erect a modern eight-room building school improvement league are organizing a growing interest in all matters that pertain to the public schools.

Marriage Licenses. Marriage licenses were issued yesterday in the following cases: Howard T. Pinchbeck and Lillie S. Harner, both of Thomas O'Connor, Jr., and Elizabeth Charlotte Barton.

COURT ASKED TO NAME RECEIVERS

Grand Fountain, True Reformers, to Resist Application When Matter Is Heard.

Application was made in the Chancery Court yesterday for appointment of receivers for the Grand Fountain, United Order True Reformers. Judge Ginnard appointed October 31 as the time for hearing argument on the motion for the receivership, which is asked by John W. Williams, personal representative of the estate of R. R. Palmer, deceased; Mary Palmer, Mary E. Haywood, C. E. Jones, Mabel Kelly, Sarah Troy and Mary S. Jones.

The petition for appointment of a receiver recited the known facts in regard to the failure some months ago of the bank of the Grand Fountain of the True Reformers, the directors of the insurance order having also been the directors of the bank. It is charged that while the insurance company was the largest single depositor in the bank, and therefore the largest loser in its failure, the present directors are endeavoring to divert property to the bank to the detriment of the interests of the policy holders and creditors of the insurance order. The order having partially reorganized since the exposures of a year ago, will resist the application for a receivership.

C. & O. PROMOTES PASSENGER MEN

John D. Potts to Assume Duties Falling Heretofore to Traffic Manager.

Circulars issued yesterday by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company announce that the duties of the passenger traffic manager, heretofore performed by H. W. Fuller, who died in Washington on October 12, will be assumed hereafter by John D. Potts, general passenger agent. Mr. Potts, therefore, is in entire charge of the passenger department, reporting to F. M. Whitaker, third vice-president, in charge of traffic.

It was also announced, in a circular issued by Mr. Potts, that W. O. Warren, district passenger agent, is promoted to the position of assistant general passenger agent, with headquarters in Richmond. Mr. Warren succeeds William S. Bronson, heretofore assistant general passenger agent, who is promoted and transferred to the legal department.

As printed in The Times-Dispatch on Sunday, M. J. Caples has been appointed fourth vice-president, with headquarters in Richmond. He will have jurisdiction over the operating and construction departments of the entire system, as well as the Hoeking division. Mr. Caples, who comes from the Virginia, Clinchfield and Ohio, begins his duties on November 1, and will fill the vacancy caused by the death of G. E. Doyle.

Judgment Entered. Judgment was entered yesterday in the law and Equity Court in the case of the Chesapeake and Ohio Coal and Coke Company against Chester Robert for $12.50.

STOCKHOLDERS TO NAME DIRECTORS

Chesapeake and Ohio's Annual Meeting Will Be Held in Richmond To-Day.

TWO MEMBERS HAVE QUIT

Resignation of Scott and Dooley Not Explained by Railway Officials.

Stockholders of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company will hold their annual meeting in this city to-day, with the election of two directors as the most important matter which will come up for consideration, according to the public view. Except to say that they were actuated by personal reasons, there has been no explanation as to why Frederick W. Scott and James H. Dooley resigned from the board a meeting held last week in New York. The resignations will be acted on to-day, and the understanding is that the new members will be closely affiliated with Edwin Hawley, the dominant head of the Chesapeake and Ohio system.

In a way, there has been more or less secrecy about the retirement of Mr. Scott and Major Dooley. They went on the board several years ago when Mr. Hawley acquired possession of the Chesapeake and Ohio, and they have taken a deep interest in the welfare and advancement of that property. President George W. Stevens and Vice-President Deatur Axtell are members of the board, and they reside in Richmond. Hereafter, they will probably be the only local members, as the directors to-day will most likely come from New York.

Nobody Is Talking. Nobody connected with the Chesapeake and Ohio has been found who was willing to discuss the report that there has been more or less friction in the board, although it has been common talk in banking circles that it has existed to a certain extent, at least. Moreover, it is generally known that Hawley is the real directing spirit of the company, with power enough to dictate the membership of his own board, and the question of dividends.

At the same time, the railroad people admit that the road has been wonderfully improved since the Hawley interests got possession, the administration of President Stevens especially within the past two or three years. He himself has been highly commended. In certain quarters it has been made to appear that Mr. Scott would become identified in a financial way with other railway properties which are regarded somewhat as rivals of the Chesapeake and Ohio. There has been a statement to justify this assumption. Mr. Scott, however, has been made to appear that Mr. Scott would become identified in a financial way with other railway properties which are regarded somewhat as rivals of the Chesapeake and Ohio. There has been a statement to justify this assumption.

BUILT UP GREAT SYSTEM

A well-known banker said yesterday that while Mr. Scott, who is now in Chesapeake and Ohio, it was unfortunate that two Richmond men should retire from the board of directors. "Mr. Hawley has built up a great system," said the banker, "and he is still reaching for it. I happen to know that he has unbounded confidence in the ability of President Stevens, just as I know that President Stevens is most highly regarded by the leading railroad heads of the country. So, while two of the old directors are off, there is absolutely no reason to suppose that it means anything. Mr. Stevens has been in the country for the earnings of the year, and should be put into improvements. That was done, the physical property being second to none in this part of the country. Then, when the road was in money-making condition, the directors increased the dividend from 1 per cent. to 5 per cent. The Chesapeake and Ohio is all right, and even if there should be friction in the board, there is not enough of it to hurt."

GOT NO PARDON

Man Convicted in County for Theft Must Serve His Term.

Otto Carroll, of Henric county, was not satisfied with the penalty of 18 months and sixty days in jail, imposed upon him by Magistrate T. J. Puryear yesterday for stealing a huge silver bureau and some harness from M. A. Vincent, and appealed for pardon to Governor Mann. His wife and daughter, in the meantime, were held by the executive, but the latter failed to find ground for executive clemency and referred the petitioners to Justice Puryear.

It developed during the hearing that Carroll at the time of the theft was employed by Mr. Vincent as plasterer, and was paid wages at the rate of $1 per day for his labor. The circumstance referred to by the executive, and the fact that he was a stranger in the county, were not taken into consideration. He was arrested on a similar charge about a year ago.

No Quorum. The Council Committee on Water failed to get a quorum yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, and adjourned to meet on Thursday night at 8 o'clock.

FATHER GIVES HIS BLOOD TO HIS BOY

Transfusion Operation Performed in Hope of Saving Patient's Life.

SUFFERING WITH GANGRENE

Otis Harris in Desperate Condition, Though Parent Recovers From Shock.

In what may prove a vain effort to save the life of his son, a victim of gangrene, J. G. Harris, of Vaughan, N. C., yesterday submitted to a transfusion of a large quantity of his blood to the body of the boy.

The son, whose name is Otis, seven years old, was brought to the Memorial Hospital several days ago suffering from post-typoid fever complications, which developed into gangrene of the jaw. His condition was critical in the extreme, and it is still doubtful whether he will recover.

Quickly Volunteers. Mrs. Harris accompanied her son to Richmond. She was told that a transfusion of strong, healthy blood into the veins of the afflicted child would have to be undertaken as a last resort. She telegraphed her husband of the decision of the surgeons, and he immediately wired that he would submit to the operation, and at once came to Richmond.

In the operating room father and son were placed side by side. An artery in the right arm of the man was opened, while an incision was made in the left arm of the child. The arteries were attached and the blood permitted to flow from the body of the father into that of the son. It was said by the surgeons that the operation, looked upon in scientific circles as an unusually delicate one, was a success.

However, the condition of the child was so serious prior to the operation that it was said last night that his life was hanging in the balance.

The father rapidly recovered from the loss of blood.

MEAKIN WILL LEAVE

Man of Mysterious Career Is Finally Dismissed in Police Court.

Upon his promise to leave town and no more to trespass in the home of M. J. Lawler, 1005 East Clay Street, "Captain" George Y. Meakin, who has been arrested by his bondsmen, was dismissed in Police Court yesterday morning.

Meakin was originally on a charge of beating Marion, the eleven-year-old daughter of Mrs. Lawler. On this charge he was arrested last week, and on the charge of trespass the hearing was continued.

Meakin was mysteriously shot in the home of Mrs. Lawler some months ago. He declared that the shooting was accidental.

ELECTED AGAIN BY 'OLD SPORT'

Woman Who Lost in Colored Bank Failure Threw Good Money After Bad.

Representing himself, it is alleged, as a reformer of the True Reformers, Eddie Miller, alias William Jennings, alias William Jeffries, but better known to his immediate friends as plain "Old Sport," colored, told Fannie Mosely, also colored, who had invested much money in the bank of the organization, that he could recover all her deposit for $10. She declares that she handed over the $10. Then she sat down and waited. Every night she pressed her nose against the window pane, looking longingly forth into the night for "Old Sport's" coming. He came not. Then she visited "Squire" Purdie, and he issued a warrant for the arrest of the man of many aliases. He was brought in by Bicycle Police men Samuels. As the negro entered the station, two friends of his passed by.

"Why, there's 'Old Sport,'" said one of them. "He wears a Prince Albert and says he'll be 4-d if he'll ever work." But it begins to look as if "Old Sport" had worked a little bit overtime.

In visiting another woman who had lost heavily in the failure of the True Reformers' bank, Miller is said to have forgotten which alias he had given.

"What name did you say?" he was asked.

"Did I say Jennings or Jeffries?" "I dunno, but I reckon it ain't no use you hangin' round here," and he departed.

No Quorum. The Council Committee on Water failed to get a quorum yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, and adjourned to meet on Thursday night at 8 o'clock.

MASONIC BODIES CLOSE GOOD YEAR

Grand Chapter Will Begin Its Annual Session Here To-Night.

CUTCHINS WILL BE KING

Change of Inspecting Policy to Be Considered by Grand Commandery.

Ending the most prosperous year in its history, the one hundred and fourth annual convention of the Most Excellent Grand Royal Arch Chapter of Virginia will begin at the Masonic Temple at 8 o'clock this evening. Reports compiled up to last night by Grand Secretary W. D. Blanks, of Petersburg, show that there are to-day 6,527 Royal Arch Masons in this State. The increase during the year in membership has been large—greater than the preceding year.

Two chapters have been added to the list, the past few months—St. Andrew and the Smithfield. There are now thirty-seven of these bodies. Nearly $1,000 has been contributed by chapters toward the voluntary support of the Masonic Home of Virginia, in this city. The facts here outlined will be presented to the Grand Chapter in the annual report of Secretary Blanks.

Inspecting Candidates. The working committee began its sessions yesterday morning, and its labors will not be concluded until the time for the assemblage of the Grand Chapter to-night. It is instructing candidates in the degrees of Royal Arch Masonry.

On to-morrow afternoon the Grand Council of Anointed High Priests will hold its annual session. This body is composed of men who have been high priests in the past year.

Officers of the Grand Chapter for the ensuing year are already settled on. The custom is rotation. The lowest officer is always elected from among those appointed by the grand high priest, and those appointed also rotate. So the new man in line for promotion will be selected hereafter by the new grand high priest.

This means that at this session Major Stanley W. Martin, of Lynchburg, now grand king, will be elected grand high priest to succeed Judge J. S. Matthews, of Big Stone Gap, who has been grand high priest since the death of the late Major S. K. Cutchins, of Richmond, who was chosen grand king. J. W. C. Bryan, of Clifton Forge, now an appointive officer, will be elected grand captain of the host.

Grand Commandery to Meet. On Thursday morning at 10 o'clock the grand commandery will convene at the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of Virginia will begin.

A matter before the Grand Commandery will be a proposed change in official administration. A resolution was offered at the last annual meeting and for consideration at this year, which recites that the present plan for inspection of subordinate commanderies does not accomplish the desired end, and orders that it be discontinued. To take its place, the resolution provides that the grand commander appoint an inspector-general and four assistants, known as the State inspectors, to inspect the subordinate commanderies. These inspectors shall inspect not only the uniform and equipment of the subordinate commanderies, but also the records and proficiency of officers. They are to receive their traveling expenses and to be paid for their duty. This proposition is expected to arouse a good deal of discussion.

The national conference of Unitarian and other Christian churches, now in session in Washington, D. C., where it is holding its twenty-fourth biennial meeting, has arranged for a conference extension meeting to be held in Richmond next Friday evening in the Jefferson Hotel auditorium.

As more than 1,500 members, including laymen and the many prominent clergymen, from every State in the Union will be in attendance at Washington, it is expected that quite a large number will take advantage of this opportunity to visit Richmond. Their headquarters here will be the Jefferson Hotel.

The Richmond public is very cordially invited to attend the meeting to be held Friday evening at 8:15 in the Jefferson Hotel auditorium. The meeting will be presided over by Horace Davis, of San Francisco, and will include short platform addresses by noted speakers, possibly including Dr. Elliot.

"Nothing in this ordinance shall be construed so as to impair any of the obligations assumed by the city of Richmond under its contract with the city of Manchester, nor to nullify or render nugatory any of the limitations or restrictions provided for in the ordinance approved March 5, 1910, entitled 'An ordinance to provide for the annexation of the city of Manchester to the city of Richmond,' and that said obligations, which are hereby reaffirmed, may be fully met, the territory of the late city of Manchester, by this ordinance made a part of Madison Ward, shall be designated and known as 'South Richmond Improvement District,' in which district the city of Richmond will exercise its ordinance of consolidation, so far as not already made, shall be made, as if this ordinance had not been enacted."

Joseph Betterley, fifty-five years old, of the North Fourth Street, was injured in a peculiar manner yesterday afternoon while running the elevator at Kinman & Company's plant, Fifteenth and Cary Streets. He was severely injured when his foot was caught between the door of the room it took up to stand hard by the door. As the elevator passed, the door closed on his foot, which was caught between the door of the lift and that of the second story, and was badly crushed. He was hurried to the City Hospital in an ambulance, where an operation was performed. Several of the bones were broken, but the surgeons were of the opinion that the injured man will recover without making it necessary to resort to amputation.
